PINARAYI VIJAYAN
CHIEF MINISTER, KERALA

I am extremely happy that the Information and Public Relations Department is bringing out the Media Handbook 2023.

Kerala is witnessing unprecedented strides in infrastructure development and social welfare. At such a time it is imperative that the Government and the public are able to interact freely with one another. The Media Handbook has always served as an important reference guide for those who want to connect with Government departments, important officials, elected representatives and media organisations.

I am sure that the 2023 edition of the Media Handbook will be useful and handy for all. My best wishes.

T V SUBHASH IAS

Director

I&PRD, Kerala

The Information & Public Relations Department is ready with its media handbook for 2023. Like in the past, this time as well, the handbook has been prepared with the objective of providing hands-on information to the public regarding important contact numbers. The media handbook which contains elaborate details about the media organizations both print and electronic media and government departments, is undoubtedly a strong link between the public and media besides various delivery systems of the government. It facilitates a viable channel for communication between the government and media organizations which is vital element for public oriented good governance. I am sure the handbook will be of great help to the people at large. I take this opportunity to congratulate all those who were behind this initiative.

T V Subhash IAS
